Price Fails In First Attempt To Open Ballot Boxes

Gerald V. Price, Sr., defeated candidate for Sheriff and Tax Collector of Hancock County, in the August primaries, lost a first round attempt to contest the election.

Price filed a petition with the A. C. Mitchell, Clerk of Courts to receive permission to examine the ballot boxes.

But he was refused permission because as Mitchell stated, he waited too long to file his petition.

The statute reads that the opposing candidate must be given a three-day notice before the boxes can be opened. And, Sylvan J. Ladner, Jr., the Sheriff elect was not given the proper notice.

Mitchell said, "It is my interpretation of the law that the opposing candidate has to have at least a three day notice and since the Sheriff had made a return showing that there were only two days service to the opposing candidate. In such a case, the only way that the boxes can be opened is if the opposing candidate, in the presence of the court, waived the three-day service."

But since the opposing candidate, Mr. Ladner would not waive his service, and since there was a record showing that there wasn't a three-day notice given, I didn't have any jurisdiction to enter the ballot boxes."

The Assistant Attorney General upheld Mitchell on this ruling. Since that time Price has begun his second and third rounds in his fight.

First, he filed a petition with the Circuit Court to ask the Judge to mandamus the Clerk to permit him to examine the boxes.

Then, following this act, Price filed another petition with the Hancock County Executive Committee, asking that he be given permission to check the boxes, because, he believed that there is evidence of fraud and irregularity in the boxes.

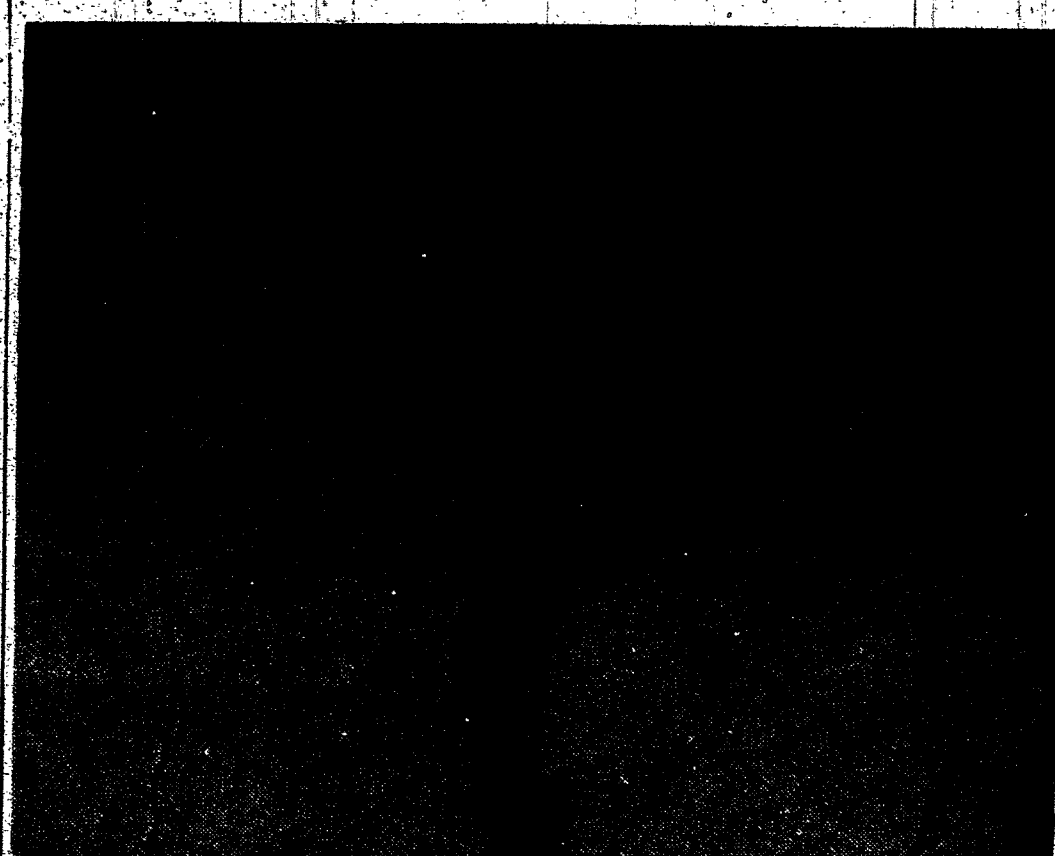

Since the election returns have been canvassed by the Democratic Executive Committee, the boxes in three of the beats have been checked by other candidates in various races.

These beats are 2, 4 and 5. No fraud was found in any of the boxes.

Price lost the second primary election to Ladner, the City Commissioner of Bay St. Louis by a 221 vote majority. This was his second attempt to gain the Sheriff's office in Hancock County. Four years ago, he was defeated in the second primary by the present Sheriff, John Egloff.

GRAND JURY RECOMMENDS NEW Poor House For County

The September term of the Grand Jury recommended that the Board of Supervisors dispose of the present county poor house, and construct a new home for the poor.

The Grand Jury asked that the Court call this recommendation, which was previously presented by a former grand jury, to the attention of the Board and request that some action be taken in this matter.

The jury investigated five cases and returned three true bills. It examined eighteen witnesses during its two day tenure.

The complete Grand Jury report is as follows:

We, the Grand Jury, having been duly empaneled, sworn and charged for the September Term of the Hancock County Circuit Court, have been in session for two days, during which time we have examined eighteen witnesses, investigated five cases and returned three true indictments. We have additionally continued one case for the consideration of the March 1956 Grand Jury.

We have had before us the Grand Jury report of a previous Grand Jury, relating to the disposition of the present home for the poor and indigent sick of our County and the entire Grand Jury has gone to the home and made a personal inspection of the conditions there. We believe that the previous recommendation of a former Grand Jury that the Board of Supervisors dispose of the present Poor House by selling same and purchasing land conveniently located, or using 16 Section land if possible, to build a new building with sufficient space to house paupers of the County and further that it be made also into a County Farm under which prisoners are to work, should be adopted by the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County. We earnestly ask the Court to call this recommendation of the Grand Jury, and of a former grand jury, to the attention of the Board of Supervisors and request that some action be taken on these recommendations by this Grand Jury and by a former Grand Jury of our County, and we further request that the March 1956 Grand Jury make a further investigation into these conditions to see whether or not any action has been taken in accordance with our request.

We have examined the Court house and we find that while generally it is in a fair condition, and that substantial repairs have been made which were needed, that the Court house does need to be kept in a cleaner condition and that the hallway particularly should be free of all trash and other materials or supplies which have been stacked in the hallway and make it unsightly to visitors to the Courthouse.

We have investigated the County Jail and find the same is in good condition and the prisoners are well treated. We would like to recommend that more careful attention be given by the Sheriff to what prisoners he permits to become trustees in order that there might not be any danger of the escape of prisoners in the future. We believe that prisoners should be kept in the confines of the jail, both for their own safety and for the safety of the citizens of our County.

We wish to thank all of the County Officers who cooperated with us during our deliberation and we as a body of the County are particularly pleased that no serious crimes have occurred in our County during the past six months as will be noted by the fact that we have only had occasion to return three indictments.

And now, having concluded our labors, we respectfully beg to stand finally discharged.

Sylvester Favre,

Foreman of the Grand Jury.

Members: J. M. Thigpen, Billy O. Anderson, Eric Lawson, Lucien Perniciaro, Curtis Lee, James V. Smith, T. M. Prator, J. B. Mitchell, Edward J. Ladner, Elmer Seal, Sylvester Moran, C. R. Pennington, Paul Heirley, Clyde Ladner.

Wake Up, Mr. Sheriff, The Guard's Here Again!

(EDITORIAL)

Did you see the headlines last week? "GUARD RAIDS RAY'S DRIVE-IN; THE PINES ALSO HIT" (These places are in Hancock County.)

This is the type of publicity our county continues to receive. It takes only a few defiant people to give bad publicity to the whole county. The Governor of the State had warned gambling places on the Coast to shut down—or else. He warned the Sheriff to stop gambling—or else. A defiant Sheriff fails to perform his duty and close the gambling—and the people of the whole county must suffer as a result of a few gamblers and a sheriff who, not only fails to do his duty, but defies, or disregards the orders of the Governor of the State.

After practically two terms in office our sheriff should now realize that there are some authorities in the state higher than sheriff. We can recall when our present sheriff, while serving a previous term, was warned in the courtroom by a judge of this District that he would not tolerate his defiance of the orders of the Court—this was on slot machine injunctions.

Incidentally, Mr. Sheriff, there was no INDIVIDUAL CHURCH (including Baptists, Catholic, Episcopalians, Methodists, Presbyterians, or any other denomination in Hancock County), or GROUP, or IN-COMING SHERIFF, responsible for the National Guard raid this past week, so why don't you quit trying to kid yourself and others. It was a raid ordered by the Governor—after giving two week's notice to you and the gamblers! Why don't you and the gamblers assume the credit, and quit trying to shift the blame. The gamblers failed to heed the Governor's request to stop—and you failed, or refused to stop the gamblers, so why blame the raid on someone else?

Also, Mr. Sheriff, you also know that the race horse book located in the same property raided last week never stopped. Yes, Mr. Sheriff, as you say, "bettors can go across the bridge," but so can the National Guard! We don't want them back here for more bad publicity for the sake of one bookie who has no respect for the law! or community!

You are still defiant, aren't you, Mr. Sheriff—you and the bookie. That is what brought the Guard last week. Why should you and a petty gambler invite the Guard back for some more bad publicity for the whole county? Do you think you are serving the best interests of your county by protecting petty gamblers? Is that the type of badge you wear?

Mr. Sheriff, it is your duty, as sheriff, to protect the PEOPLE of the county, NOT a few GAMBLERS—at the expense of the good citizens of the county. If you think of your own left, so why not give the PEOPLE of the county a heads-up on back they deserve. If you are a good sheriff, you should have a SHIELD on your back, not a bookie's name on your back.

Gambling Cases To Be Tried In Court Here Today And Monday

CLERK OF COURTS A. C. MITCHELL DENIES PRICE'S REQUEST—Clerk of Courts A. C. Mitchell last week denied Gerald V. Price, Sr., defeated candidate in the Sheriff's race an opportunity to examine the ballot boxes. Mitchell said he couldn't allow him to do so because the law didn't permit him to do so. Sylvan J. Ladner, Jr., the successful candidate is seen in the background.

Veterans Of Foreign Wars Elects Warren Carver Adjutant

A new and complete slate of officers are to be elected at the next meeting on Monday night, September 26th.

In the meantime, the 1956 membership drive was initiated, with most of those present at the Monday meeting joining for the new year.

During the discussions emanating out of the specially called function, the sentiment was overwhelmingly in favor of formulating plans and policies to make the local combat group an integral part of Bay St. Louis and Hancock County.

Adjutant Carver, on behalf of the V. F. W. announced that the present and former members and eligible veterans are cordially invited and urged to join the Post to help get the reactivated unit "back on its feet," and to help carry out the noble purposes upon which the organization was congressionally chartered.

The recipients of the three cash door prizes offered, were Gilmore J. Carver, Nolan Kingstons, and Lucien Kidd. A much larger group is anticipated at the forthcoming meeting at the courthouse on September 26th.

The South Regional meeting of the Garden Clubs of Mississippi will be held in Jackson on October 19th and members were urged to attend.

J. D. Horlock, M. G. Seuzeneaux and Raymond Kidd, who were arrested last week by the Mississippi National Guard, for having gambling paraphernalia and whiskey in their possession, will be tried Monday morning before Beat Five Justice of the Peace Nelius Rhodes.

District Attorney Bruce Holleman was the prosecutor.

The case was originally scheduled to be heard this morning, but the State requested that it be continued at the later date.

The other two Hancock County men arrested by the Guard, Robert Moran and Harold Zimmermann, of the plush "Pines" Club located in Pearlboro, will face trial today before Judge Martin of Beat One.

These men are also charged with having gambling equipment and whiskey in their possession.

All five men have been out on bond since their arrests.

The "Pines," formally known as the "Oasis" was raided for the second time by the Mississippi Guard.

Following the first raid the name of the establishment was changed but the gambling policy was upheld against the wishes of Governor Hugh White, who warned the gambling equipment had to be taken out of the State.

But apparently this request was not carried out.

Last week the Governor, from his office in the Capitol building ordered a full crack down on all gambling on the Gulf Coast. He wanted it closed.

And it was, by a large group of National Guardsmen, selected from the Hattiesburg-Jackson area.

The local raids were led by Major Hilton Vance, who acted with the authority of a search warrant signed by Circuit Judge Leslie Grant.

During the past week there has been a great deal of discussion and controversy as to whether or not Judge Rhodes acted correctly when he refused to accept the evidence presented him by Major Vance.

The evidence was in the form of a roulette wheel, equipment from the dice table and a large sum of cash money.

Rhodes refused to accept this evidence and to hold it until, because he stated "according to the law the arresting officer or the sheriff must keep the evidence in his possession until the date of trial."

His action in this matter was upheld by District Attorney Holleman, who stated that it was not his duty as a judge to accept this evidence to hold.

Horlock, Seuzeneaux and Kidd were arrested in the place of business known as Ray's Drive In, located just outside of the Bay St. Louis city limits.

Defense attorneys in the case have not been announced at this time.

SOUPS ON—Mrs. Raymond Bourgeois and Mrs. Selma Tudary are shown preparing plate soups for the school children in the kitchen of the new Bay High Lunchroom.

Bay High Downs Pass 12 - 7; Stanislaus Scalped By Indians 19 - 6

Tommy Holden Leads Tiger Attack With Long Runs; Idle This Weekend

The Bay High Tigers started off their 1955 football season with a tally in the victory column.

The Tigers had too many backfield sparks for the Pirates of Pass Christian and they marched to a 12 to 7 win.

Tommy Holden, the senior fullback from Logtown, was far and above the most valuable player on the field. His offensive drives and his line-backing feats were largely responsible for the Tigers' win. Holden scored one of the touchdowns for Bay High and 97 yards for another; only to have it called back for an off-sides penalty.

His T. D. was scored from the 38 yard line.

Huge Favre, another senior, with three years of experience behind him, crossed the magic line for the first Tiger score. His run started at the 22 yard line.

The Pirates recovered a Tiger fumble on Bay High's 15 yard line and scored on an end run, for their lone touchdown.

The big difference in the two squads was definitely the backfield with Bay High head and shoulders above their opponents in this category.

The two little and young quarterbacks in the Bay High lineup, Grady Perkins and Wayne Alliston performed as expected, with confidence and ability.

Perkins was the better of the two in field generalship and the handling of the ball, while Alliston shined in his passing attack.

In the line Bobby Boudin and Ronald Maurigi, two returning lettermen, were the tops kiks who held the Pirates at bay.

Of his victory, Coach Lance Lumpkin said, "For the first game the boys looked fair. We made several mistakes that were costly. We didn't do so well on our downfield blocking and a number of offside penalties were very costly to the team."

"We were well satisfied with Perkins and DeHaan at ends. They both did good. Henry Monti helped us a lot with his drives and with his defensive linebacking. Our two young quarterbacks played good ball. Alliston was especially accurate with his passes and also did some fine punting while Perkins was good in the execution of the plays and the handling of the ball."

This week Bay High has an open date, but next week they meet their first DeSoto Conference opponent in Leakesville. Henry Monti has no practice this week because of a slight cut he received over his left eye in the Pass High game. It required five stitches.

The Lakeshore Inn and the home adjoining, belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Winingsham of New Orleans were completely destroyed by fire Thursday evening. ### Bay High News

Bay High opened on September 6 with an increased enrollment in both grammar grades and high school over last session.

Previous to the opening, two days of work shop were held for the teachers of Bay St. Louis High School.

On August 31, work shop was held for high school teachers at which time Miss Gladys Baxter, who is a specialist in the Core Curriculum movement in schools, was present and discussed the operation of the Core Curriculum with the high school group. Miss Baxter is a member of the faculty of Murphy High School in Mobile, Alabama. On September 1, workshop was held for elementary teachers. This day was devoted to methods of improvement of teaching reading in elementary grades. A special reading consultant from Rowe Peterson Publishing Company was present and worked with the teachers on the best methods of teaching reading.

Bay St. Louis High School has added a new course this year in Industrial Arts. It provides shopwork in Woodworking, Sheet Metal, Electrical, Drawing and Blue Prints for boys from the 8th through the 12th grades. This has long been a need in the high school courses in Bay St. Louis.

The Webb and Taylor Elementary Schools have been continued as in the past with practically the same enrollment as in previous years.

This year a course in type writing and shorthand will be offered for adults at Bay High. The courses will be held in the afternoon beginning at 4 p. m. A reasonable charge will be made for these courses. If you are interested in taking this work, please contact the Superintendent's office.

The office force at Bay H has been kept busy during the summer months, also at the opening of school with furnishing data to the survey team making a school survey in the Municipal Separate District in Hancock County. Dr. H. M. Ivy and a group of Consultants are preparing this survey and will make the report in the near future as to their recommendations of the schools in Hancock County.

Again this year, the school is offering individual insurance to each boy and girl attending public school to protect them against accident at school or on their way to or from school. Parents have been notified of this offer to protect their children against accidents.

Cheerleaders for the 1955-56 season were elected at Bay High, Friday, September 9. Those elected were Carl Sue Banderet, Carol Johnston, Connie Ripple, Nolen Ladner, Janet Miller and Marjoe Breland. Their uniforms this year will be blue corduroy flared skirts with gold lining, blue sweaters with a gold "B" worn with a white blouse. White gloves will complete the outfit.

Star Of The Week

The first Sea Coast Echo Star of the Week for the 1955 football season is Tommy Holden, Bay High's big and fast fullback.

Holden led the Tigers to victory in the initial game of the season with the Pass Christian Pirates.

He scored one touchdown on a 38 yard gallop, ran 97 yards for another tally only to have it called back because of an offside penalty.

Holden was also one of the leading defensive players on the Tiger squad from his line-backing position.

This is his second year as a starting backfieldman. Last year he lettered at halfback and also received a letter in basketball and track.

Coach Lance Lumpkin changed him to fullback for this season because of his speed, power and size.

He definitely proved himself worthy of the confidence placed in him by his coaches and his fellow teammates.

And Friday night Pass High must have felt that he was Jean Lafitte in disguise because of all the yardage he stole from them with his power drive through the line and around the ends.

Rhode, Artigues Spark Rocks Offense; Meet Gulfport Commodores Tomorrow

When the word "desire" was created in the English language, its originator must have looked into his crystal ball and saw the 1955 edition of the St. Stanislaus Rockchaw football team.

For this bunch of young boys, outmanned and outgunned, fought gamely with a spirit that is rarely seen in high school teams.

They lost to a more powerful Biloxi team.

But they need not be ashamed for their performance. One bad break made the difference in the game. A fumble on the three yard line which would have tied the score in the last quarter can very well be designated as the turning point in the game.

From there Biloxi scored on a 97 yard run to wind up the game with a 19-6 wedge over the Rocks.

Coach Farley Day's charges went into the second half 13 points behind on the scoreboard but with an earnest and sincere desire to better their position.

And this they did. With a sustained drive from deep in their territory, led by break away runner Billy Rhodes, the smooth field general Kenny Artigues and the newest member of the Rockchaws backfield Mitchell De Cuir, the concerted guard, Stanislaus moved downfield like a plague of locust spreading over a town.

Rhodes scored from the seven yard line to put the Rocks back in the game.

Then almost immediately after Stanislaus recovered an Indian fumble on Biloxi's 3 yard line. But then the fumble occurred on the first play they attempted.

Biloxi bounced right back and taught Stanislaus sitting on its haunches and Richard Strum, an antelope in Indian clothing, broke through his own right tackle to race, like Nashua, 97 yards downfield to put the game on ice for his team.

The Rocks never threatened again.

The disease, known in football as fumbleitis, was very costly to Stanislaus. On a number of occasions Stanislaus was moving nicely down the field and then would lose possession of the ball through a fumble.

The first touchdown of the game was scored by Kenneth Thiddeaux from the 50 yard line on an off tackle slant. The extra point was good, kicked by Joe Batus.

Following an intercepted pass the Indians went on the war path again.

The ball was carried to the Rocks' two yard line, from where Strum, drove over for the second score. The extra point attempt was blocked.

Many of the Biloxi drives in the second quarter and in the last two quarters of the game were stopped by the alert defensive play of veteran Leon Fazio. For part of his time in the Biloxi backfield, heaping disaster to the many carefully planned plays, which were supposed to be successfully executed.

Birch Wilbert, a tall, lean end from Louisiana, was also one of the main cogs in the Stanislaus' defensive machine. All night Wilbert protected his end like a mother Tiger protects her youngsters.

De Cuir aided the Rocks in their defensive lineup with some nice tackles, as he played his line backer position with much authority.

But Rhodes, the two year letterman in his third year of high school, was the bright light of the Rockchaw team. At times he picked his holes like a chess player selects his positions on the board, and he captured the admiration of the crowd as well as the opposing coaches and players.

This week the Rocks will invade the port of the Gulfport Commodores.

From all indications, if Stanislaus enters the game without any injuries, the odds should be six to five, take your choice.

For cotton to be acceptable for the Commodity Credit Corporation Loan, specific requirements must be met. Each bale of cotton must weigh not more than 700 lbs. and not less than 300. Farmers are advised to strive for standard 500 pound bales.

The cotton must be adequately packaged. The heads of bales must be covered. Material for packing cotton bales must be new, except that used jute and sugar bagging may be used if it is clean and in good condition.

It is estimated that more 3,000 bales of the 1955 cotton crop will fall in the too small or too heavy group. This will make such bales ineligible for

A Visit With A College Football Player

by Gregory Favre

As I continued on Highway 167, I was coming closer to my destination, Lafayette, La., the center of the Evangeline Country, with its rice fields, its thousands of acres of sugar cane, its oil wells, its great traditional background and its very obvious state of prosperity.

The Evangeline Country was named for Longfellow's famous heroine, who was laid to rest some 30 miles from Lafayette, and who was made immortal by Longfellow in some of the most touching, most beautiful, and most inspired lines which he wrote during his lifetime.

Yes, this was the heart of Southwest, La., the pulsebeat of one of the fastest growing territories in the entire United States.

As I entered the city limits of Lafayette, I continued along the main thoroughfare until I reached the end of my trip, the sprawling, picture-like campus of Southwestern Louisiana Institute.

The college whose rise has been meteoric and whose future progress is being planned by the legislative powers of the state.

I was directed to the football stadium, which also serves as a dormitory for the college athletes.

As instructed, I asked for the "Bald Headed Hick," and was escorted to the room of none other than our own, Maurice Artigues, Jr., the former star of the Stanislaus Rockchaw football team, who was granted a four-year football scholarship at S. L. I.

As I saw him, I knew why he had told me to refer to him in that manner. His dome was cleanly shaved, and his seven or more "bumps" of wisdom were very predominant. It seemed that these had been increased by the hard licks which he had taken over the week.

He had been the victim of that college custom, which faces all freshmen, the traditional head shaving by the upper classmen.

Maurice looked fit, although in his first three days of practice he had lost 21 pounds. But already, that good French cooking had taken up the slack. He was resting for the intra-squad scrimmage which was to take place in a few hours. He was scheduled to start off for the green shirts.

After inquiring about the football team of his Alma Mater and of the gridiron exploits of his younger brother, Kenny, Maurice began to talk about college and college football.

He confessed that he had been homesick, and like many freshmen who were in strange surroundings for the first time, had contemplated returning home.

But, Maurice had never been a boy to quit and he wasn't starting now. He knew that he had the support of the people back home and he knew that their eyes would be focused on his performance this year.

So, he became determined that despite homesickness or whatever else may come, that he just wasn't going to quit.

We parted company for a little while in order to give Maurice time to eat his pre-game meal at the training table.

So, I strolled leisurely around the campus and viewed the sights. There is one thing to which I will testify, and that is, Southwestern may not be the largest college in the country, but in proportion it has the best looking female students.

But, back to Maurice and his football future.

The two intrasquad teams came out on the field and, take my word for it, they have some men on that team.

The game was conducted under regular football rules, complete with referees, head linesmen, etc.

As expected, Maurice started off for the Green Shirts and did a fine job especially on offense. He called the defensive signals for his team, and backed up the line.

From this viewer's standpoint, Maurice was the best offensive center on the squad insofar as snapping the ball and popping on the blocks were concerned.

But he has a little to learn on defense. As Coach Didier said in his office following the game, "Maurice's troubles are on defense. Offensively he fits right in and has definitely adjusted himself to college ball, but on defense he has been a little slow."

Speaking about Maurice in general, Coach Didier said, "We feel that he is a very hard worker. Right now, he is in pretty good physical shape considering the short time that we have been out for practice."

We are well pleased with his attitude, spirit, and hustle which he has shown on the field. He is doing as good a job as can be expected of a freshman. We expect him to play some ball for us this year. But, I don't know just how much."

The pleasant faced head coach continued, "We feel that Maurice is as good as any freshman as far as fundamentals are concerned. In fact, I would say that he is above the average as far as freshmen go."

We are building toward the future in Maurice. We do know that if Maurice doesn't pan out as a center, he will make up a top notch college guard.

We think a lot of Maurice and think that before he gets out of college, he will be an outstanding player and he will definitely be an asset to our team and our school. Maurice is the type of boy we like to get and are looking for.

Maurice and Coach Didier. In the photo above Maurice is shown as he talks with Head Coach Didier about some of training. Didier expressed a great deal of confidence in Maurice's ability and expects "outstanding things" from him in the future.

The first thing we look for in a boy is his desire to hit. We call that heart. A boy has to have this and Maurice, definitely fills the bill as far as that is concerned. Next, we look at a boy's speed, then his size. Of course, we carefully check a boy's scholastic ratings, because we don't want any boys who can't make the grade in their studies. When we give a scholarship, we want to be sure that a boy will not fall back because of his studies.

How does Maurice feel about college football? His answer to that question was, "In some aspects such as conditioning, there is not much difference because I had the proper training while in high school. But in college the boys hit harder and they are always popping. That is the main difference."

Coach Didier, who has been head coach at Southwestern since 1950, is in the process of coaching his second St. Stanislaus man you might say.

For, in the 1930's, he coached Coach Farley Day, the man who guided the high school career of Maurice and who is a true Stanislaus man.

Coach Didier has nothing but praise for Coach Day.

He said, "Farley Day had heart. In fact, he overtrained while in high school. I had to make him eat sweets after his meal because he wouldn't eat any for fear that it might hurt his condition."

He was one of the hardest workers that I have ever coached in football. He didn't have a great deal of natural ability, but everything he achieved was gained through hard work and concentration.

Reece here I come. And he, lieve me, HE CAME. He, checked down on me, and I really felt it. Boy, that guy is really good."

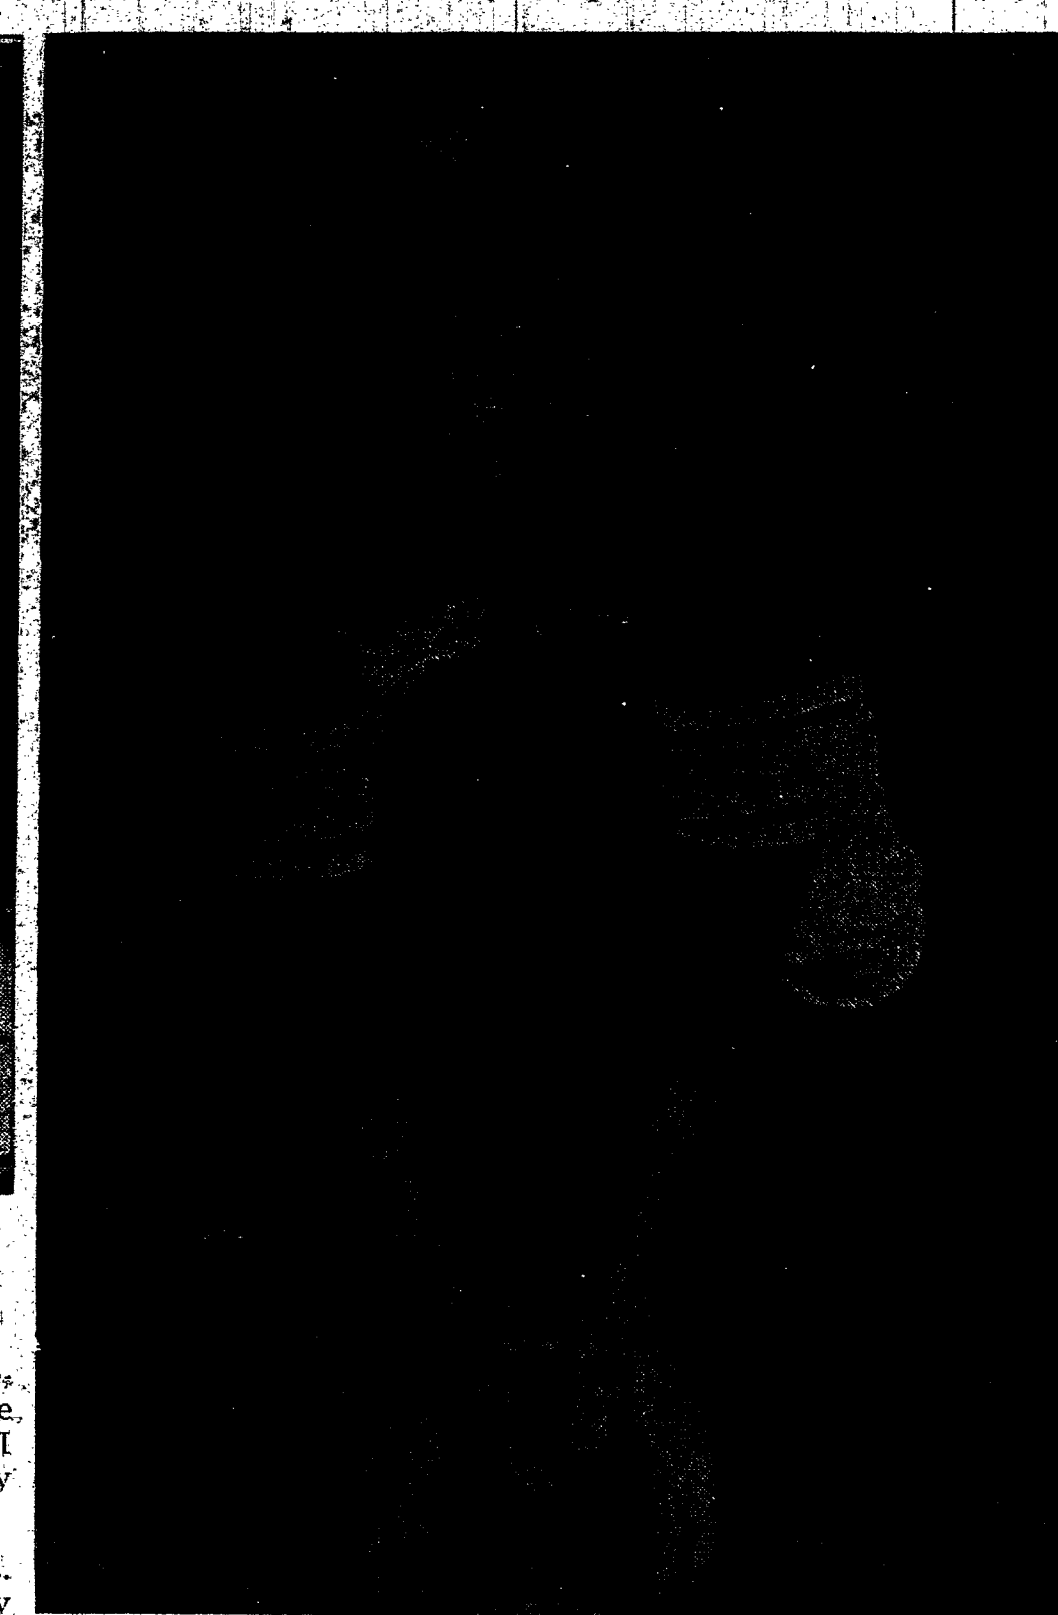

But, Maurice can take it. You have to in order to play opposite an All-Conference guard, who does nothing but knock your head in your shoulders every play.

Take my word for it, Maurice will do just fine.

As Coach Didier said, he will be an outstanding ball player.

One that we will be justly proud of in the future.

THE BALD HEADED HICK. That is what the boys at Southwestern called Maurice after he had his head shaved by the upperclassmen. Maurice said, "Man I hope we win our Homecoming game. If we don't all the hair will come off again."

A Good Start

Governor designate, J. P. Coleman, has been busy since the election meeting in different parts of the State with the elected members of the State Legislature, discussing with them the major items in his platform, upon which he was elected Governor by a 47,000 majority.

Among the major points of his platform being discussed are:

1. A law to recall sheriffs and other officers who fail to do their duty;
2. Regulations of electric and gas utility companies by State agency;
3. Repeal of the absentee vote law except for armed forces personnel.

The vote of the people of the State of Mississippi, indicates that these measures were heartily endorsed by the populace. Coleman is diligent, conscientious and courageous and we believe that he will lead the fight for those major promises he made to the people.

In elections, we all know the time to win an honest election is before the day of election and not on election day. Likewise, the time to plan a program for the legislature is before the legislature convenes and not afterwards. If there is harmony to begin with, good results may be expected. The people have spoken and when the legislature convenes in January, the members of the Legislature should carry out the mandate so expressed.

Governor-elect J. P. Coleman, by meeting and getting acquainted with the law makers and by a discussion and exchange of views, the ground work will be laid and thereby save a great deal of lost motion and time after the legislature is convened. To say the least, it is a good start in the right direction.

Get a new street quickly and economically with durable, low-cost SOIL-CEMENT

A clean, attractive, smooth-riding street in front of your house increases the value of your property. A dusty, bumpy potholed street is unsightly and unsafe. It is a nuisance to drivers who use it and to property owners who live on it. The constant patching and repairing of such a street is a waste of time, temper and taxes.

If your street is worn-out and run down, it can be converted into an all-weather pavement quickly and economically. Just ask your city officials to pave it with soil-cement. Soil-cement is a combination of soil or granular material usually on the street and portland cement and water. Mixed and compacted, these elements form a rigid, durable base. A bituminous surface completes the pavement.

Soil-cement is economical. Low in first cost, it delivers years of dependable service with a minimum of maintenance.

Soil-cement paving is fast. An experienced crew can pave your entire street in a single day—with practically no inconvenience to you.

Act now to pave your rough, worn-out street. Insist on soil-cement. It's today's best low-cost pavement value for residential streets.
